Scenic . . .

Miles of scenic drives . . . along winding streets beside cool, blue lakes lined with tropical trees and colorful flowers and shrubs . . . past orange groves . . . under moss-draped oaks . . . past beautiful homes from the modest bungalow, rambling ranch styles to lovely lake-front estates . . . this is Winter Park—the City of Homes!

Here, you can name your favorite recreational pastime . . . you'll find it . . . and enjoy it . . . in the glamorous sunshine of this semi-tropical wonderland—whether it's golf, tennis, swimming, boating, fishing, shuffle-board, water skiing, or just plain loafing in the sun.

Winter Park is known too as one of the most important cultural centers in Florida. Famous Rollins College, with its renowned Spanish-Mediterranean architecture, sponsors concerts, lectures and many other activities during the winter for visitors and local residents. One of the most important of these is the Rollins Animated Magazine . . . the only Magazine published in the United States that "comes alive". Distinguished Americans who make their homes here and famous men and women from all over the world are contributors to this unique Magazine. The Bach Festival Society presents a two-day program of Bach music yearly. This high-spot in the cultural activities attracts its audience from many states.

The University Club, of world renown, has over 800 members and holds monthly meetings and bi-weekly forums on educational, political and scientific topics.

Colorful

Kraft Azalea Gardens along the shores of Lake Maitland . . . picturesque Genius Drive amidst flowering shrubs and vines . . . a drive to Mead Botanical Garden, widely known for its collection of exotic orchids and tropical plants . . . and the Scenic Boat Tour around the shores of four large lakes and through connecting canals . . . are an interesting and colorful part of your visit to Winter Park.
